Statement

Ethiopiaid takes the protection and safety of all its beneficiaries, partners and staff seriously.

We work with partner organisations that provide vital support and opportunities to vulnerable and marginalised individuals in Ethiopia. We respect local values and work with partners to promote equality and who do not discriminate based upon a person's gender, age, faith or sexuality. As such our responsibility is ultimately to ensure that the right individuals are reached and that our donors' money is spent appropriately.

We work closely with our trusted partners to ensure that their programs are responding to real needs, are engaged with the communities in which they work, and encourage the participation of beneficiaries in decisions that affect their lives.

All Ethiopiaid partners must be compliant with their own country law relating to the safeguarding of children, young people and vulnerable adults, staff and volunteers. They must also commit to Ethiopiaid's Code of Conduct in order to be considered for funding, and any further eligibility criteria required by an Ethiopiaid funder.

This policy is a reflection of our commitment and is a document that will be reviewed on an annual basis.

1. Introduction

Who is this policy for?

This policy provides information for anyone who is involved with the work of Ethiopiaid in Ireland and in Ethiopia, including staff, volunteers, trustees and fundraisers.

Who is a child?

A child is someone who is under the age of 18 years, even if married or a mother.

Who is a young person?

A young person is determined as someone between the ages of 18 years and 23 years.

Who is a vulnerable person?

A vulnerable person is someone, of any age, who is, or may be, in need of community care services (or equivalent in Ethiopia) because of mental or physical disability, age or illness, and is unable to take care of themselves, or unable to protect him or herself against significant harm or exploitation.

What is abuse?

Abuse includes mistreatment, exploitation, or neglect. It can be physical, emotional and/ or sexual. According to the Health Information and Quality Authority (HIQA) of Ireland abuse can be defined as:

“ any act, or failure to act , which results in a breach of a vulnerable person's human rights, civil liberties, physical and mental integrity, dignity or general well being, whether intended or through negligence, including sexual relationships or financial transactions to which the person does not or cannot validly consent, or which are deliberately exploitative. Abuse may take a variety of forms.” Although this abuse definition focuses on acts of abuse by individuals, abuse can also arise from inappropriate or inadequacy of care or programs of care.

Who might abuse?

Anyone can be an abuser, including:

- A relative or unpaid carer
- Neighbours, friends or acquaintances
- Paid employees, carers or volunteers working with the individual
- Other vulnerable services users
- A stranger

What are the essential duties for people who work with children, young people and vulnerable people?

- Be mindful of the possibility of abuse
- Take any urgent action needed to ensure the safety of those involved
- Be aware of the Safeguarding Policy and how it applies to you
- Know when and how to report a safeguarding issue
- Record any information or evidence you are aware of
- Respect the rights and wishes of the child/young person/vulnerable adult whilst also considering their capacity to understand any particular risks they may face

The policy applies to all Ethiopiaid employees, volunteers and representatives of the charity and should be read in conjunction with the additional Safeguarding Policies relating to children and vulnerable adults as appropriate.

NOTE: Ethiopian partner organisations will be required to meet the safeguarding standards expected by the Ethiopian Charities and Civil Society Agency. They will also be required to commit to Ethiopiaid's safeguarding code of conduct.

2. Principles and Values

- All children, young people and vulnerable adults should be encouraged to fulfil their potential and inequalities of potential should be challenged.
- Everybody has a responsibility to support the care and protection of children, young people and vulnerable adults.
- INGOs have a duty of care to children, young people and vulnerable adults with whom they work, and with whom their representatives (including consultants) staff and volunteers work.
- The care, dignity, privacy and respect of beneficiaries is important and is reflected in every aspect of our fundraising practices, partnerships and monitoring processes
- Ethiopiaid maintains policies and procedures to safeguard the interest of all parties
- Ethiopiaid is committed to working with its partners on developing and implementing their own organisational policies and procedures.

- A copy of this Safeguarding Policy is available to all Ethiopiaid partner organisations.
- Every Ethiopiaid member of staff, trustee and volunteer has signed a commitment to the Safeguarding Policy.

- Seek partnerships and collaboration with Ethiopian registered partners.
- Respect, listen and respond to our staff, volunteers, Ethiopian partners and beneficiaries
- Be accountable by measuring improvements in the lives of the people who participate in our projects. In this way we ensure our donors' and supporters' funds are used effectively and responsibly

- Provide opportunities by helping people to build the knowledge and assets needed for self-sufficiency.
- Share information about safeguarding concerns with the relevant person(s).
- Provide effective management to ensure safe and best practices are maintained.

3. Child Protection in the Ethiopian Context

The Ethiopian Revised Criminal Code (2005) defines the following criminal offenses with respect to children:

Harmful traditional practices; enslavement of children; trafficking of children for prostitution and forced labour; sexual abuse; corporal punishment in schools and institutions; rape, maltreatment and neglect of children.

The Ministry of Women, Children and Youth Affairs (MOWCYA) is the main Government body in charge of coordinating and implementing the Child rights in the country.

In 2006, the Ministry formulated a National Action Plan on Sexual Abuse and Exploitation of Children (2006-2010) with the overall goal of reducing the impact of commercial sex work on children. The Plan identified four levels of intervention: prevention, protection, rehabilitation and reintegration, to be coordinated and monitored during implementation.

Some of the government committees that collaboratively work to promote and protect the rights of the child include the:

- National CRC Committee
- National OVC Task Force
 - National Steering Committee against Sexual Abuse and Exploitation of Children
 - National Steering Committee on Child Labour
 - Inter-Institutional Management Team Working on Gender Based Violence (GBV) and Violence against Women and Children
 - National Committee on Trafficking in Women and Children.

4. Child Protection in Ireland Context

Ireland has a framework of legislation, guidance and practice to identify children who are at risk of harm, and take action to protect those children and prevent further abuse occurring. This policy covers most aspects of safeguarding and child protection.

5. Ethiopiaid's Commitments

5.1 Transparency and Accountability

Ethiopiaid Ireland has a “No Tolerance” approach to any form of abuse and promotes a culture which supports this ethos. Ethiopiaid is committed to ensuring that it is transparent and accountable in all its dealings with stakeholders including partners, beneficiaries, donors, grant makers and the general public.

We regularly review our finances, audits and operational systems to ensure that we are legally compliant.

We believe that honesty is important in all matters related to raising, using and accounting for funds. We maintain sound financial, accounting and administrative systems that ensure the use of resources in accordance with intended purposes.

The activities of our partners are monitored, evaluated and reported upon both by the partners themselves and by Ethiopiaid staff.

Ethiopiaid Ireland has a global strategy that is shared with Ethiopiaid Australia, Ethiopiaid Canada and Ethiopiaid UK. Each country draws from the strategy to inform its own relevant country's operational plan and strategy. The global strategy is disseminated to interested stakeholders e.g. donors, grant makers, partners. Our audited accounts are submitted to both the Charities Regulator and the Companies Registration Office and are available upon request.

5.2 Good Internal Governance

Ethiopiaid has written Articles of Association, a clearly defined mission, objectives and organisational structure.

The charity is governed by a board of experienced trustees. The service of the board is voluntary and no fees are paid other than agreed essential expenses incurred during service (e.g. travel).

We are supported by Reed Specialist Recruitment Limited (“Reed”) who assist us with the application and development of policies and procedures for equal opportunities in our employment practices and in the promotion of staff. This includes hiring and terminating, evaluating performance, salaries and promotion, and supporting professional development. These services are donated to Ethiopiaid by Reed.

Positions are always offered based on experience, qualifications and meeting the relevant requirements for the role.

Ethiopiaid's transactions are free of personal and professional conflicts of interest.

5.3 Honesty, Integrity and Cost-Effectiveness

We strive for honesty and integrity in all of our professional activities.

Fraud of any kind (including but not limited to misappropriation of funds, equipment, supplies, or other assets; Impropriety in the handling or reporting of money or financial transactions; Disclosing confidential information to outside parties; Accepting or seeking anything of material value from contractors, vendors, or persons providing services/materials; Destruction, removal, or inappropriate use of records, furniture, fixtures, and equipment) is not acceptable.

Our internal and external practices are regularly reviewed by the CEO (Ethiopiaid UK) and the Board of Trustees to ensure that they do not undermine the ethical integrity of our organization.

We accept funds and donations only from sources whose aims are consistent with our mission, objectives and values.

We benefit from the support of Reed who donate free office space, computer equipment, human resources and technical support to us. This enables us to spend the minimum on administration costs ensuring that the charity operates leanly and effectively, and that all possible resources reach the people we aim to support in Ethiopia.

We ensure that our partners document and regularly communicate the results and impact of our funding.

We promote a spirit of volunteerism, recognising the important contribution that can be made by volunteers in promoting our objectives.

5.4 Sustainably Strengthening Communities

We recognise that capacity building of our partners is essential in supporting them to become self-sufficient and more sustainable.

We check that our partners design and implement projects in collaboration with local communities, health authorities and the relevant government ministries in order to meet local needs and to ensure long term sustainable development.

6. Scope of this Policy

The policy is applicable to all Ethiopiaid staff (full time and part time), trustees, volunteers and those engaged on a short term basis such as consultants, researchers, interns, photographers and writers.

If the CEO (Ethiopiaid UK) is accused of inappropriate behaviour the Chair of the Board of Trustees will decide on appropriate action in consultation with the nominated Safeguarding lead on the Board of Trustees.

Refresher training to all staff and regular volunteers will be given on an annual basis.

The CEO (Ethiopiaid UK) and/ or the Safeguarding lead on the Board of Trustees will receive refresher training and will actively participate in training courses and groups to ensure that he/she is up to date with new developments in best practice. Ethiopiaid Ireland's sister charity, Ethiopiaid UK, shares our partners and provides funding for training in areas such as Safeguarding through its capacity building fund.

Ethiopiaid's due diligence, with new partners and with existing partners when starting a new grant, will include checks on:

- (a) organisational Safeguarding Policy
- (b) evidence of good Safeguarding practices when delivering activities
- (c) evidence of good case management when recording, processing and referring Safeguarding incidents

Partners that do not have an adequate Safeguarding policy, commit to Ethiopiaid's Code of Conduct or/and who do not evidence understanding and good practice in relation to safeguarding will be assisted to achieve this through the planned capacity building activity or may be phased out of organisational partnerships.

Ethiopiaid is committed to supporting partners to put in place rigorous and appropriate policies and procedures that are applied across the organisation. There will be an agreement at the outset of partnerships that child and vulnerable person protection issues will be included as an appropriate element of monitoring, evaluation and reporting.

Although children, young people and vulnerable adults are the direct beneficiaries of Ethiopiaid's work, Ethiopiaid staff and volunteers should not, in the course of their normal employment, come into contact with children. If Ethiopiaid staff and volunteers do come into direct contact with children, this should never be alone or without the supervision of the parent, guardian, teacher or suitable responsible person(s).

- All staff members have obtained and verified Garda vetting.
- All staff members have two references obtained and verified.
- Staff members receive (refresher) training regarding Safeguarding annually.

11. Reporting Procedures

The reporting of suspected or actual abuse and/or a safeguarding concern is a professional responsibility and legal obligation. Failure to report information can lead to disciplinary action or dismissal.

It is the responsibility of the Safeguarding Officer in each of Ethiopiaid's partner organisations to ensure that children, young people and vulnerable adults are made aware, in an age sensitive and language appropriate way, that they understand what to do if they feel uncomfortable and want to report something.

All designated Safeguarding Officers of the local partner organisation are to compile a list of local agencies/emergency contacts that deal with issues relating to the protection of vulnerable adults, young people and child protection and to whom children can be referred e.g. social services, emergency medical help, psychologist, pediatrician etc. This list should be made visible to partner staff and beneficiaries.

The guiding principle is that the best interest of the child, young person or vulnerable adult and the desire to secure the best outcomes for the child, young person or vulnerable adult shall always govern decisions regarding what actions should be taken in response to concerns and the level of confidentiality to be maintained in specific reported cases.

Reporting issues in Ireland

In any cases of suspicion of a safeguarding issue in Ireland (or relating to a member of staff, trustee, volunteer or contractor in Ireland) the person to whom it has been reported must immediately inform Ethiopiaid's CEO (Ethiopiaid UK) and/ or the Safeguarding lead on the Board of Trustees.

If the issues/ allegation involves a member of staff then Reed HR must also be informed.

Reporting issues in Ethiopia

In any cases of suspicion of a safeguarding issue in Ethiopia the person to whom it has been reported must immediately inform the designated Safeguarding Officer of the local partner organisation. The designated Safeguarding Officer will then action as per their own safeguarding policy. They must also inform Ethiopiaid of the incident using the reporting protocol.

- Ethiopiaid's CEO (Ethiopiaid UK) is responsible for ensuring that the incident reported is recorded and stored securely in the Ethiopiaid office.
- All staff have a responsibility in maintaining confidentiality of records and cases of allegations or suspicions. This information shall only be made available to the relevant parties.

12. Media and Communications

As part of our duty of care to children, young people and vulnerable adults, Ethiopiaid will always put the individual's needs first. Ethiopiaid adheres to the Dochas Code of Conduct on Images and Messages.

Ethiopiaid recognises its responsibility to the individuals who are portrayed in any of the images or communications used and will always strive to represent them accurately and not as passive victims – they must be represented with their own identity and dignity preserved.

Consent will always be sought from the subject themselves, their parents or guardian, or via the partner organisation, before taking photographs. Ethiopiaid has a 'Media Consent Form' to be used for this purpose. Consent is understood as lasting for 4 Years, or in the case of a child, until their 18th birthday if that is sooner. When a child becomes 18 they should be asked as an adult to renew their consent.

The names of children will always be changed to protect their identity.

No images of children or vulnerable adults should be used which are degrading, sexually provocative or where children or vulnerable adults are partially clothed or naked.

No photographs should be manipulated or taken out of context.

Ensure that any image or recorded case study history of a child, young person or vulnerable adult does not place him/her at risk or render him/her vulnerable to any form of abuse. In particular, it is vital that their real name and other information that could lead to them being identified or tracked must not be used.

Third parties who work with us to promote our work requesting the use of Ethiopiaid images or other materials should read and sign Ethiopiaid's Safeguarding Policy and Code of Conduct and should adhere to the Dochas Code of Conduct on Images and Messages.

All social media (blogs; Facebook etc.) and case studies generated by Ethiopiaid will be subject to the same Safeguarding guidelines as outlined in this policy.

Information about a child/children's life and any images of children will be kept confidential in secure files. Access to images is limited to those that need them during the course of their work.

Where possible Ethiopiaid will only use images recorded on Ethiopiaid cameras and for which informed consent has been secured. Staff are requested to delete all images from personal cameras when returning from a field trip.

- Informed Consent Forms obtained for case studies and images
